

Download and installation tips for BadPlan.

If you have trouble downloading DOS or Windows programs, contact your administrator.

For the DOS version, create a dedicated folder for the program anywhere on a local disk, and copy the complete contents of the .zip file in that folder. There is no need for additional installation steps beyond that. When clicking the .exe file, Windows may announce that a DOS program will not run. Contact your administrator how to circumvent that.

The current Windows version of BadPlan is incomplete so you can put it in a dedicated folder anywhere. There are no accompanying files yet, such as help files. Files read or written can be anywhere; example files are in the DOS-versions .zip under 'data' so you might copy that folder into the folder where BadPlan is.

Warning: because the Windows version is incomplete, it might stop functioning if it meets contradictory input or handling; but it still can be exited.
